

Center for Family Life (CFL), is a neighborhood-based family and social services organization with deep roots in Sunset Park, Brooklyn. CFL's Life Lines Community Arts Project is a free, nationally-recognized arts and leadership program serving 700 youth, ages 10-21. Life Lines includes an after-school arts program and summer camp, traveling theatre/dance troupes, high school internships, original productions, and an in-school interdisciplinary partnership designed to promote student achievement. Special thanks to our funders: The Department of Youth & Community Development, Pinkerton Foundation, Charles Hayden Foundation, Altman Foundation, and NYS Office of Children & Family Services (OCFS) Americorps.

Sunset Park Business Improvement District (BID) is a non-profit community service organization that promotes the quality of life and business success of Brooklyn's Fifth Avenue between 38th and 64th Streets. For over 25 years, they have helped small businesses, sponsored avenue holiday lights, provided supplemental sanitation services, and produced community events. This year, Sunset Park BID distributed over 60,000 face masks and hosted 15 traffic-free outdoor dining weekends.
